

Emerald SubjectCollections

Online journal and book series collections

Specialist collections in 24 subject
areas

Emerald Subject Collections comprises 24 journal collections and 15 journal and book series collections, organized by subject, making it possible to tailor your resources precisely to meet your researchers', students' or employees' needs.

Drawing on contributions from editors and authors worldwide, the collections feature journals that are indexed by Thomson Reuters (ISI) and Scopus. Each book series is specially commissioned and every journal article is peer-reviewed to ensure the delivery of high quality research for practical application and relevance to the field.

All content is available online through a simple search and browse facility and if any new titles within the field of management are launched in your area, you will automatically receive access.

We have a dedicated new launch and acquisition team that has carefully selected quality journals to add to the portfolio year on year. 134 journals have been added since 2005 and we've added a new collection for 2012 – Health and Social Care.

“Research into the governance and accountability practices of organizations in different parts of the world is crucial if we are to take a holistic view of social responsibility and move the agenda forward. Despite growing interest, importance and relevance, this is still somewhat limited in developing countries, and submissions of this nature are not always welcome in certain journals. Not so with Social Responsibility Journal, where they not only accept, but actively encourage submissions in this area.”

Riham R. Rizk, PhD, Accounting and Finance Course Leader,
Durham Business School
