

Health Care Management/ Healthcare

A practically focused and widely used collection including journals featured in Medline and articles downloaded every minute worldwide.

Journal

ISSN: 1477-7274 Volume: 17 Print Issues: 4 Internet Issues: 4 www.emeraldinsight.com/cgij.htm

Clinical Governance

An International Journal

Clinical Governance: An International Journal (CGIJ) is one of the world's leading publications specifically produced for clinicians and all those actively engaged in the pursuit of clinical excellence and patient safety. Clinical excellence is the prime goal which is tackled in the research, audit and evidence-based papers published.

Coverage includes:

Patient safety; quality improvement; evidence-based practice; clinical guidelines; implementation of good practice; clinical performance indicators; audit; risk management; and policy and strategy.

Benefits and features

- CGIJ brings a mix of in-depth research articles, practical guidance, book reviews, conference reports, health technology developments, clinical risk assessment and interviews with leading figures in clinical governance.
- CGIJ contains a unique full-colour Review section, discussing each article contained within the issue, providing comment, analysis and application.

Editors

Professor Alan Gillies
Honorary Professor of Information Management,
Hope Street Centre, Liverpool
Science Park, UK

Nicholas Harrop
Consultant in Emergency
Medicine, Victoria Hospital, UK

“CGIJ is, in my opinion, a very insightful and informative journal that touches on current realities in healthcare. Quality in healthcare and regulation is the ‘new’ public health of this century, especially in developed countries. Clinical governance of healthcare organisations and health regulation play a critical role in ensuring the safety and wellbeing of patients in this age of rapid advancement in medical technologies and rising entrepreneurial behaviour. Honestly, I have not come across another journal that covers the topics of healthcare regulation and governance with such tremendous comprehensiveness and clarity as CGIJ.”

Dr Harold Tan, MoH's Deputy Director, Singapore

Journal

ISSN: 0965-4283 Volume: 112 Print Issues: 6 Internet Issues: 6 www.emeraldinsight.com/he.htm

Health Education

Health education plays a crucial role in the development of a healthy, inclusive and equitable social, psychological and physical environment. Health Education (HE) reflects the best of modern thinking about health education, offers stimulating and incisive coverage of current debates, concerns, interventions and initiatives, and provides a wealth of evidence, research, information and ideas to inform and inspire those in both the theory and the practice of health education.

Coverage includes:

Sex and sexuality; mental health; occupational health education; health communication; personal change; healthy eating; drug education; and ethical issues in health education.

Benefits and features

- It reflects current best practice using an empowering, multi-dimensional, multi-professional approach which relates to all settings, organizations and parts and levels of society.

Editor

Professor Katherine Weare
University of Southampton, UK

Journal

ISSN: 0952-6862 Volume: 25 Print Issues: 8 Internet Issues: 8 www.emeraldinsight.com/ijhcqa.htm

International Journal of Health Care Quality Assurance

Addressing the issues of management and quality

The International Journal of Health Care Quality Assurance (IJHCQA) covers issues related to quality in health and social care, and provides a forum for the international exchange of theoretical and practical aspects of quality assurance, innovation, management, continuous improvement and performance management. As part of its unique placement, the journal aspires to provide a network for practitioners to improve quality within their own organization. The journal encourages new writers to publish their work.

use of quality tools and models in leadership management development such as the EFQM excellence model, balanced scorecard, quality standards and managed care.

Benefits and features

- IJHCQA is highly-respected in its field, providing a much-needed interdisciplinary resource for all professionals in health care.

Editors

Dr Keith Hurst
Independent Analyst, UK
Kay Downey-Ennis
Marymount Centre, Ireland

Coverage includes:

Successful quality/continuous improvement projects; the

Journal

ISSN: 1753-8351 Volume: 5 Print Issues: 3 Internet Issues: 3 www.emeraldinsight.com/ijwhm.htm

International Journal of Workplace Health Management

The International Journal of Workplace Health Management (IJWHM) publishes current research and debate on all aspects of health in the workplace, both from the wider public health perspective and from the perspective of the individual organization.

management, violence and the workplace, stress, workplace hazards, risk factor modification and work-life balance.

Benefits and features

- IJWHM publishes peer-reviewed research articles on all aspects of workplace health and in-depth case studies, presenting practical solutions to workplace problems.
- IJWHM publishes real-life implications for the individual, the employer and public health systems in general.

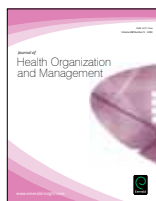

Editor-in-Chief

Dr Lydia Makrides
Creative Wellness Solutions,
Canada

Coverage includes:

Best practice examples of successful workplace health solutions; compliance with workplace health legislation; promoting health in the workplace; the business case for workplace health promotion; and workplace health issues and concerns – e.g. mental health, disability

Journal

ISSN: 1477-7266 Volume: 26 Print Issues: 6 Internet Issues: 6 www.emeraldinsight.com/jhom.htm

Co-Editors

Dr Helen Dickinson and
Dr Suzanne Robinson
Health Services Management
Centre, University of Birmingham, UK

Journal of

Health Organization and Management

The Journal of Health Organization and Management (JHOM) encourages the development of health organization and management as a discipline. Multidisciplinary in scope, the journal is a forum where innovative analysis features strongly. It encourages not only contributions that are complete in their conception, analysis and delivery, but also work-in-progress and other forms of contributions from academics, students and practitioners who wish to test their ideas as they are in the process of development.

Coverage includes:

International health; organizational behaviour, governance, management and leadership; the inter-relationship of health and public sector services; theories and practices of management and leadership in health and related organizations; emotion in health care organizations; and management education and training.

Benefits and features

- JHOM is listed in Medline.

“There was an interesting variety of papers [in the last volume of Journal of Health Organization and Management] with an emphasis on applied scholarship ... The main strengths of the journal include its wide readership and its comprehensive coverage of health care issues. It is an excellent place to read about international developments in health care management from a wide range of perspectives.”

Mark Learmonth, Nottingham University Business School, UK

Journal

ISSN: 1476-9018 Volume: 20 Print Issues: 6 Internet Issues: 6 www.emeraldinsight.com/jica.htm

Editor

Peter Thistlethwaite
IntegratedCare R&D, UK

Journal of

Integrated Care

Practical evidence for service improvement

Journal of Integrated Care (JICA)* provides the latest national policy and law concerning integrated care, and actively promotes user and carer engagement.

Coverage includes:

Getting evidence into policy and practice; evaluation of effectiveness and outcomes; adult and children's services and their interface; organizational and workforce development; and allied health professions, social work and social care.

Benefits and features

- Facilitates the evidence-based integration of health, social care and other community services in order to benefit service users and patients, and transcend traditional service and professional boundaries.
- The editorial board includes key national leaders and thinkers in the field, enabling a unique linkage of research evidence with professional and managerial “know how” in the Journal's content.

Journal

ISSN: 1751-1879 Volume: 25 Print Issues: 4 Internet Issues: 4 www.emeraldinsight.com/lhs.htm

Leadership in Health Services

Leadership in Health Services (LHS) provides examples of best practice in developing effective health care leaders, disseminating practical, relevant and timely information. As an international journal, LHS ensures that readers are kept abreast of current debates and hot topics from around the globe.

care pathways; improving patient care and services through effective management practices; and crisis management.

Editors

Dr Jennifer Bowerman
Canada

Jo Lamb-White
Italy

Benefits and features

- As the only peer-reviewed journal focusing on leadership in a health care setting, LHS ensures that readers are kept abreast of current debates and hot topics, including new models of clinical leadership and management.

Coverage includes:

Strategic management within health care organizations; leadership: new models of leadership, training and development; resourcing and resource constraints; public health challenges – HIV/Aids, tuberculosis; integrated

Journal

ISSN: 0034-6659 Volume: 42 Print Issues: 6 Internet Issues: 6 www.emeraldinsight.com/nfs.htm

Nutrition & Food Science

Nutrition & Food Science (NFS) offers easily readable, accessible coverage of this complex and dynamic field and also covers consumer and family health issues. The journal aims to reflect contemporary thinking so that professionals in the food and nutrition field can keep pace with developments and look at current preoccupations from industry, health and public perspectives.

legislative issues; nutrition, social status and health; growth and new developments in vegetarian diets; food preparation; consumer choice, preferences and concerns; and family health and welfare.

Editor

Dr Mabel Blades
Nutrition and Dietetic Services,
UK

Benefits and features

- In addition to the original articles, each issue includes Food Facts relating to topical news items, initiatives and web sites.

Coverage includes:

Food safety and hygiene; attitudes to food and nutrition; healthy eating initiatives; marketing, distribution and

Book

ISSN: 1474-8231 www.emeraldinsight.com/books

Advances in Health Care Management

Advances in Health Care Management is a research annual that publishes state-of-the-art reviews and research on special topics in the field of health care management which orient new and established scholars about current themes within an area of research.

the field, research on selected topics, and best papers from the Health Care Management Division of the Academy of Management. In contrast, Volumes 4-7 focus on a range of special topics, from bioterrorism to international health care management to entrepreneurship to patient safety.

Series Editors

Professor Grant Savage
University of Missouri School of Medicine, USA

Professor Myron Fottler
University of Central Florida,
USA

Professor John Blair
Texas Tech University, USA

Dr Leonard Friedman
George Washington University,
USA

Coverage includes:

The series provides a forum for leading research on health care management. Volumes 1-3 offer reviews of Volume 8 (2009) is the inaugural volume for the biennial review of health care management research. Volume 9 (2010) explores human resource management issues within health care organizations.

Book

ISSN: 0731-2199

www.emeraldinsight.com/books

Advances in Health Economics and Health Services Research

Series Editors

Professor Michael Grossman
City University of New York and National Bureau of Economic Research, USA

Professor Björn Lindgren and Kristian Bolin
Lund University, Sweden

Bob Kaestner
University of Illinois, USA

The purpose of Advances in Health Economics and Health Services Research is to consider all topics in health economics and the related field of health services research. Each volume is devoted to a specific topic within the field. Most volumes in the series consist of between ten and twelve papers, but a few may take the form of monographs by one or more authors.

Coverage includes:

All areas in the field are covered, including the production of and demand for health; the demand for medical care services; the financing of these services; the markets for physicians, nurses, dentists, hospitals, and drugs; the economics of substance use; health in developing countries; and the economics of medical technology.

The series is a forum for theoretical and empirical research. The latter employs data both for developing and for developed countries. While most studies focus on economic issues, contributions from other social scientists are welcomed.

Book

ISSN: 1479-3555

www.emeraldinsight.com/books

Research in Occupational Stress and Well Being

Series Editors

Professor Pamela Perrewé
Florida State University, USA

Professor Daniel Ganster
Colorado State University,
USA

The objective of this series is to promote theory and research in the increasingly growing area of occupational stress, health and wellbeing and, in the process, to bring together and show-case the work of the best researchers and theorists who contribute to this area.

Coverage includes:

Questions of work stress span many disciplines and many specialized journals. It is increasingly difficult to track, and even harder to integrate, the work from these diverse fields. Therefore, the series aims to provide a multidisciplinary and international approach that gives a thorough and critical assessment of knowledge, and major gaps in knowledge, of occupational stress and wellbeing. Furthermore, because we will be publishing monograph-length conceptual papers, our interest is in promoting the careful development of truly path-breaking contributions that can significantly advance theory.

Book

ISSN: 0275-4959

www.emeraldinsight.com/books

Research in the Sociology of Health Care

Series Editor

Professor Jennie Jacobs Kronenfeld
Arizona State University, USA

Research in the Sociology of Work is an annual publication that examines current issues related to the sociology of work. The volumes are typically organized to offer in-depth analysis of an issue of current interest in this field of research. Each addresses a number of key issues and covers a broad range of fields including, but not limited to, sociology, business, science, economics, politics, story, and anthropology.

The series offers readers an organized publication to access up-to-date information about current issues pertaining to the sociology of work.

Coverage includes:

Work and family; deviance in the workplace; marginal employment; employment restructuring; union revitalization; worker training; diversity; and entrepreneurship.